The Right Funds at the Right Time

November 2009

October Performance

The stock market hit new rally highs through October 19 and then fell off dramatically. Top Eight Model Portfolio funds had one-month losses ranging from 2.7% for Select Technology to 12.9% for Select Air Transportation, giving the Top Eight Model Portfolio its first one-month loss, at 6.022%, since February. The Top Eight Model Portfolio once again will move more into the technology sector with its November exchanges.

The Nasdaq Composite tracking portfolio, the S&P 500 tracking portfolio, and the Top Eight Model Portfolio 2009 YTD returns are 30.312%, 17.087%, and 11.280%, respectively.

Final Performance of Funds Sold on October 5

Fundranker exchanged three funds on October 5. Here are the returns the three funds contributed to the Top Eight Model Portfolio:

Fund	Bought	Sold	Return
Banking (FSRBX)	9/4/2009	10/5/2009	4.37%
Financial Services (FIDSX)	9/4/2009	10/5/2009	3.02%
Insurance (FSPCX)	9/4/2009	10/5/2009	4.14%

October Downturn

After hitting rally highs on October 19, the Nasdaq Composite and the S&P 500 Indexes have turned down dramatically, falling seven of the last nine trading days of October. This downturn has not reached the point of calling it a correction, defined as a drop of 10%, but it has produced the first monthly loss for the market since this rally began in March. Several economic reports this week have played into the downturn.

New home sales fell 3.6% in September, contrary to economists' expectations of a seventh monthly increase in a row. Due to the coming November 30 expiration of the $8,000 first time home buyer tax credit, potential home buyers may be rethinking their plans. Legislators are working now to renew the credit.

The Consumer Conference Board's Consumer Confidence Index and the Reuters/University of Michigan Consumer Sentiment Index both declined in October, although the Nielsen Global Consumer Confidence Survey reported that their U.S. reading had risen since their last survey in July.

The only good news this week was that the GDP rose 3.5% in the third quarter, and it sparked a sizeable market rebound on Thursday, October 29.

However, the Labor Department reported Friday morning, October 30, that consumer spending fell and personal income was flat in September, which worried investors enough to undo Thursday's rebound. On the plus side for long-term economic benefits, Americans' savings rate increased to 3.3 percent of after-tax incomes from 2.8%

Even though the economy expanded in the third quarter, it is by no means out of the woods. Consumer spending is the mainstay of the U.S. economy and is directly affected by consumer sentiment, which in turn is affected by the current high unemployment rate, now at 9.8%, and which economists expect to continue to rise as high as 10.5% through the middle of next year. The recovery is likely to be weak and slow until the job picture brightens.

Remember, though, that consumer sentiment is largely a trailing indicator, meaning that it reflects more on what has happened in the past than what will happen in the future, making it a favorite indicator for contrarian investors.

Holding Period Alert

If you purchased shares after October 5 of any funds which are being exchanged on November 4, then to avoid roundtrip transactions under Fidelity's frequent trading policy for Select funds, you should wait at least 30 days before exchanging the funds.

Investing New Money

If you are a new subscriber, or you have new money to invest using the Fundranker system, first put the new money into Select Money Market. To reduce exposure to roundtrip transactions, on the next Invest New Money Date (see box below), exchange your new money into the funds in the Top Eight Model Portfolio for that month.

New subscribers should allocate equal amounts to each of the eight funds. If you already have a portfolio of Top Eight funds, allocate new money only to funds that are not being exchanged this month to balance those funds as much as possible.

Subscribe to Fidelity Select Fundranker

You can subscribe to Fidelity Select Fundranker for $49/first year, $99/year thereafter. For this fee, you will receive 12 issues of the Fidelity Select Fundranker newsletter via email on or before the first day of each month. You also will receive an email in advance of each issue to alert you to the upcoming issue and the likelihood of the possible exchange dates, so that you can plan ahead for your exchanges.
